1. Executive Summary

This report to the Adults, Health and Public Protection Policy & Scrutiny Committee from Imperial College Healthcare NHS Trust ('the Trust') sets out the case for change and the proposals developed by Trust clinicians for improving the current acute medicine and chest pain patient pathways.

The Trust wishes to engage as widely as possible on the proposals during a planned engagement period and is seeking feedback from the Committee as part of this process.

2. Key Matters for the Committee's Consideration

The Committee may wish to consider:

- Whether the proposed service changes will bring benefits for patients who are Westminster residents in terms of improved clinical outcomes and better patient experience
- The impact of the proposal to expand acute medicine services at St Mary's Hospital in Paddington

- The potential benefits for patients who are Westminster residents who need specialist chest pain care being able to directly access the Heart Assessment Centre at Hammersmith Hospital
