Supporting frontline services and fairer taxation

Westminster City Council would like to introduce a voluntary Community Contribution scheme, for those who can afford it, to help support our most important local services and reduce the burden on those who struggle to support themselves. This could, for example, be in the region of £1,376 per annum, double the current Band H council tax, but we propose to target this at properties worth £10M or over. We are asking all Band H council taxpayers to tell us their views by 15 December 2017.

Would you support the Westminster Community Contribution scheme that allows you to pay a voluntary sum to contribute more to your local services?
