

Appendix A

Other Implications

1. Resources Implications

There are no implications

2. Business Plan Implications

There are no implications though it is worth noting that BIDs make a valued contribution to the City Council's overall priorities and in particular, the Economic Development and Place Shaping priorities. Significant additional investment in economic development and place shaping is generated through Westminster's BIDs in its local area. The funding is used to implement the projects prioritised by the business community in the BID proposal. Local BIDs are taking an increasing role in place leadership, stewardship and driving local economic growth. While BIDs are business-led, they benefit those working, living and visiting the Council's local area.

3. Risk Management Implications

There are no implications

4. Health and Wellbeing Impact Assessment including Health and Safety Implications

The BID has placed health and wellbeing of their members and their employees at the forefront of their priorities ensuring that there are resources and support readily available to them.

5. Crime and Disorder Implications

There are no implications though it is worth noting that security and policing is a priority workstream for the new proposed BID.

6. Impact on the Environment

The BID has a significant focus on sustainability and the climate emergency agenda. This has been reflected within their proposals.

7. Equalities Implications

There are no implications

8. Staffing Implications

There are no implications

9. Human Rights Implications

There are no implications

10. Energy Measure Implications

There are no implications

11. Communications Implications

There are no implications though it should be noted that 'National and International Marketing' is a key priority area for the BID.
